STORY OF MOUNT BEQUEST

Money Left Bishop Tuttle Will Not Reach Diocese.

As yet the reasons are not known in Salt Lake why the bequest of $25,000 made by Maria B. Mount of New York about twenty years ago to Rev. Daniel S. Tuttle, formerly the Protestant Episcopal bishop of Utah and Idaho, for the building of a church and rectory was declared invalid Friday by the decision of the New York supreme court. The action was brought into court by Miss Susan Mount, administratrix of the will, against Bishop Tuttle and the appellate division affirmed this judgment.

When Bishop Tuttle first took charge of the Utah and Idaho missionary field some thirty years ago he came here from New York, where he had been a great friend of the Mount family. After he had been here a short time considerable money was given to Bishop Tuttle by the family and it was used in the building of the St. Paul's church. A few years later several thousand dollars was given out of the Mount estate for the improvement of the Collegiate institute. It is understood that Bishop Tuttle was reared with the Mount family, and that when he took up the ministry and was appointed to the Utah and Idaho diocese the money was donated to open up his new field. When the estate was divided up among the children the bishop was given several thousand dollars for the establishment of a school. The bequest of Miss Maria Mount was drawn up in 1880 while Bishop Tuttle still had charge of the diocese. Shortly afterwards he was transferred to take charge of the diocese of Missouri.

Miss Maria Mount died four years ago and when the will was turned over to Miss Susan Mount, the executrix, it was contested.
